To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is my personal recommendation for Everett Hinson. Until just recently, I have been Everett's academic advisor as well as advisor during his tenure as president of a student organization on campus for a number of years. I found him to be consistently pleasant, tackling all assignments with dedication and a smile.

Besides being a joy to work with, Everett is a person who doesn't shy away from responsibility and remains able to present creative ideas and communicate the benefits. He has successfully completed several projects for the University that have resulted in increased efficiency in recruiting candidates for our Master's programs, awards for our athletes and in presenting the University in a positive manner in publications such as the Star Telegram. During his tenure over the student organization, we saw it transform into a solid group of students who were passionate about the causes represented.

Everett also managed the finances for the organization and ensured that when his term was done that the next group of leaders to follow would have funds that exceeded the amount that he originally inherited. The new revenue was a direct result of the plans implemented by Everett.

Though he was an asset to our student organization, Everett was also extraordinarily helpful in other areas of The University of Texas at Arlington and community. Everett would be a great asset to any company or organization.

Please feel free to contact me directly at the information below, if you would like more information.

Sincerely,
